The website I made for A3 has a come a long way when compared to A1. the changes made and the concepts I have learned a lot have helped me improve my skills. My objective when creating the website was to showcase my portfolio so that I could present my experience to potential job seekers. Furthermore, I can use assignment serves as a vital method in which I can showcase my skills. Overall, these assignments have had a positive impact on my experience in the course, as they have allowed me to gain invaluable hands on experience that gives me the chance to practice course content in the particle aspect.
